Brilliant Autumnal Wedding at Home of Bride's Parents--Personal News Notes.

Special to The Journal. De Funiak, Nov. 22 .- One of the lovliest of autumn weddings was that which was solemnized this evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. if G. Downs where their attractive daughter, Lula E., was given in mar-riage to Mr. Charles E. Murray, Jr. The rooms of the house had been se arranged that five of them could be thrown together by folding doors and each room had been beautifully decorated with graceful festoons of ivy and magnolia. In the east parlor the bay window was banken with bandsome ferns and potted plants with huge vases of chrysanthemums and roses forming a fitting background for the impressive ceremony which was performed by Rev. L. J. Braswell. From the stairway through the west parlor and then to the bay window in the east room, the bridal party JACKSONVILLE marched slowly in periect time with wedding march, played by Miss Chris-Special to The Journal.

"ACQUIRED TASTES."

The Story of a Love Affair, a Dinner Speech and a Duel. He and her father were great friends.

As, only four persons figure in this story it is unnecessary to mention names. He had a rival for her affec tions, and her father could never understand why she preferred the rival to him. One day when he sat on the porch chatting with her father she called him Weste n lea's, Sausage, &c into the parlor and told him frankly that she had promised to marry his rival. He did not plead or beg. He kissed her hand with a sort of reverence and then returned to his seat on the porch and renewed the conversation with her father. In those few moments everything seemed to have changed for him. The sun did not shine as brightly; the birds did not sing as they did before. Even the grass and trees seemed sear and dead. He had expected what he had just heard, but that did not seem to abate the shock. He was distrait and moody. Her father saw this and asked him the cause. He blurted out the whole miserable truth. Her father continued to polish his glasses carefully and then

"Wimmen folks is mighty onsartin critters." Her father said nothing more, but nothing would change her mind. Gradually it came to be generally known that he had been rejected and that his rival was the fortunate wooer. They, he and his rival, were alumni of the same college. He was down for a speech at the alumni dinner. A month before he had attended her wedding. No one ever heard him complain, though all knew how he suffered. He was looked upon as the orator of his class, and a great speech was expected. When he arose a sinister Phone 1155. Goods delivered to any glitter could be seen in his eye. He began to speak slowly. He took as his text "Acquired Tastes." He spoke at length. Finally he said:

"I called upon a dear friend some time ago who had just had a daughter married. He felt his loss very keenly, I tried to console him, telling him that while he had lost a daughter he had gained a son. He said slowly to me: " Maybe I will come to like him after awhile-like I do my cigar-but the first few puffs are making me mighty sick."

It was in Kentucky. Not a word was said then, but just as the sun peeped over the hills the next day two dark forms were seen silhouetted against the sky. There were two flashes, a combined, subdued reportand one fell, never to rise again. It

To Be Present at the Williams Trial in Marianna on Monday Next.

Over forty witnesses in the case of the state vs. William F. Williams, charged with the murder of Edward C. about the great hotels, the splendid Dansby, have already heen subpoensed by deputy sheriffs to go to Marianna next Monday morning, when the case will be tried.

Deputy Sanders was busy all day yesterday serving papers, and Marianna will be filled with Pensacola people during the time that the case is being heard, as in addition to the large number of witnesses there will also be a big crowd of friends of the deceased and defendant go there to hear

Sheriff Van Pelt is making efforts to secure a special train for the witnesses and others who may desire to go, but nothing definite has yet been announced. Should it be secured it will be a great convenience, inasmuch as the court convenes at 9 o'clock in the morning, and in order to reach there at that time it will be necessary for the witnesses to leave here either Sunday morning at 7 o'clock, or else on the midnight accommodation train

Sunday night If the special train is secured it will leave Pensacola at about 6 o'clock in ters and are caught in great quantities,
